

Hello FutureLife,

You seem to have a jaundiced and perhaps very narrow view on life, not able to recognise the good in The World, criticise the Christian church more rigorously than any other religion even though The Christian Religion speaks of the most excellent quality “Love” perhaps more so than any other religion. It even speaks of loving your enemy – what other religion teaches us that? And finally many of the Christian church leaders involve themselves in all manner of good works to further ‘the lot’ of their community.

Have you had a bad experience with Christianity in the past?

So how can you justify your stance taken on your website?

FutureLife’s reply to these comments.

I thank you for your observations – clearly you have been reading the website contents!

Let me take your last point first: “Have you had a bad experience with Christianity in the past?”

Actually the truthful answer is - No!

But in my early years my experience ranged from sincere “house group” studies, to participating within the most charismatic gatherings, to the other extreme attending the most ‘dead’ traditional sermons as a third grouping – and to all manner of things within that triangle.

I realised that they were all lacking ‘The Absolute Truth’ because there was no ‘intellectual’ bond between what all these people spoke about and did within their lives – demonstrating an utter dichotomy between this and what was stated in The Bible – further exasperated by the shenanigans I witnessed within The Media with all those people claiming to be Christian Leaders who I did not know personally.

If there was The Almighty God in existence then how could The Christian Nation only be the ones saved by “believing in Jesus” when they were no better in their lives than those of other religions purporting to believe in God (or gods) – and further, some atheists showing the most excellent quality of “love” more perfectly than those claiming to be Christians!

Clearly the present understanding practiced by these Christians failed ‘The Simple Test of Logic’ and destroyed ‘The Almighty God concept’ – it put me on par with an Atheist’s view on life!

However for completeness, I researched all the other religions of The World in great detail to see what they had to offer – and these were far worse than (Worldly) Christianity as I knew it then – all Logic was thrown out of the window in these worldly concepts! But they all had the enticing lures to draw humans within them and then lock them inside!

But nothing added up to give a clear answer, and while the initial prime movers of these worldly religions must have been sincere in what they digested by processing The Evidence of their local environment – however with my scientific background ‘taught to analyse’ and having a much greater education within science and The World generally, then I could see all the holes in their logic – to produce something not worthy of any worship!

So I residing in The Atheist Camp ruminating upon General Evolution as I knew, also created problems because using my analytical mind I discovered all the illogical flaws when carefully reasoning how General Evolution operated, culminating in The Knowledge that this too was no more than a religious faith that became a god to those with divers vestige interests pushing ‘all the buttons’ to make it appear acceptable through unsubstantiated assumptions!

Only because the holes in the ‘branch stems’ required religious faith to bridge them – quite simply there was zero evidence anywhere on this planet within the physical record other than to understand step changes periodically occurred. I then further concluded that while I could accept the reasoned argument about DNA change to give variety of life along The Branch Stems (along a “kind” of life) over the thousands of millennia from fossil records, but there was no Logical Evidence that “a kind” could rapidly mutate to produce a viable alternative of another “kind”. But atheist evolutionists were stating that the very mechanism to produce variety within “a kind” which I could accept as a rational solution, but then being ‘conned’ into believing that this very same mechanism could then be extended to make a more dramatic change and still remain viable (= capable to live and reproduce) over a shorter period (having not a single fossil record within this step period of any “kind” to substantiate this assertion) – thus the assumed proposition seems utterly incongruous and highly illogical! This to me was obviously a jump too far in religious faith and was just as irrational as the worst examples of religious blind faith I have seen anywhere on this planet! Thus to me these atheist evolutionists believing this unsubstantiated assumption are no different to the religious leaders believing in their unsubstantiated assumptions – they were obviously both in the same camp! (See “Religion” in Glossary).

Especially when we consider that variety within the DNA becomes more ‘concentrated’ (lost alternative DNA) along “the kinds” branches, requiring ‘a new creation’ at ‘the base’ upon which to set a new branch, of a new “kind”. To tie this in with historic catastrophic periods to force a new branch stem is a most illogical statement to make (almost trying to pull a rabbit out of the hat) only because there is insufficient core DNA material to make that quick start through a viable reproductive process – being the whole reason why various species within “a kind” died out in the first instance!

And now we are in a position to witness the most catastrophic change in all of Earth's history – being the influence of mankind upon The Environment - and are The Evolutionists going to propose we will witness over many generations the most abundant change of new kinds of life evolving now!

I hardly think so! Believe that and quite frankly then you 'believe in fairies down the bottom of your garden'!

So - Is that why they are frantically retaining existing DNA stocks in liquid Nitrogen for the future – rather than boldly look forward to the new manifestations of life on this planet – that this closing epoch produces!

The whole concept is utterly illogical and has no credence within the rational mind! I could write a whole thesis logically arguing through the reasoning of this utter foolishness – but that is outside the scope of this answer.

Thus it is because the modern religion (again - see my definition of "Religion" in Glossary) of "mAcro evolution" having zero credence that I revaluated 'the best alternative' being Christianity which at least had some semblance of logic – even though not how it was taught to The Masses – by those purporting to know!

Rather than repeating what I state in the bibliography section, I started with a clean sheet of paper, threw away the illogical and thus foolish conventional worldly Christian Doctrine and started to meditate very deeply upon the subject matter as given by a faithfully translated Bible from a new angle.

Then slowly but surely over a decade and after some 5000+ hours of spare time, then a very logical and most righteous plan unfolded beyond the wit or control of mere humans operating over millennia with The Goal clearly defined and gates opening and shutting to drive this Plan forward though prophecies made and being fulfilled in time, place and personalities. Not given in some wild or haphazard shot gun approach, but each prophecy carefully made and positioned (both in time and place), then being specifically fulfilled precisely – perhaps in 100 years, or 1000 years or even longer – and being very much fulfilled today – Yes – Today – at the end of The Gospel Age – where many prophecies are coming together!

After that 1st decade in deciphering a basic and most righteous plan applicable to all humans who ever existed on this planet - then over the next decade and perhaps after another 5000+ hours in translating The New Testament from the original Greek word and further writing my essays, I now have something to present on this website so that the visitors might have a short cut in coming to The Knowledge that I freely give to you – for it is astounding in its operation and righteousness!

But it is 'never' taught – by those Christian leaders who claim to represent Yahweh because they have become so blinkered by their own worldly doctrine!

So now to answer the other presented questions:

Why am I so harsh with my criticism of worldly Christian Leaders?

Because they are utterly useless in what they have been commanded by Jesus to do with their lives!

They forsake the true "spiritual" (see Glossary) aspect (thus merely 'imitate' worldly religions) and promote the physical/worldly aspect – being directly opposite to what Jesus did during his ministry period – it is as simple as that (read The Bible to find out precisely what, why and how he was able to fulfil Yahweh's Desire)!

Quite simply:-

1. They do not preach of The Real Kingdom of God = The Lord's Acceptable Year = The Millennium. No one knows of The Goal – why it should occur and what the second stage of Yahweh's Plan really is! (They only preach of a hazy "after-life" that all worldly religions offer but having no differentiation).
2. They perform works to edify the dying physical body (that for all of us - will rot in "hell" – see Glossary). Consume all their time in religious works and social works – both are presently useless for ultimate salvation because they do not set the focus for The Goal – that once having, then all these other good things will flow throughout society!

If that is not bad enough – they elevate themselves above the masses and restrict God's Knowledge by not carefully explaining what it means at an individual level!

And as such practice deceit in their teachings - by inferring that: "Just belong to our group and you will be saved"!

None of which is taught in The Bible! I am most desirous for the very best worldly Christian Leaders to defend themselves – just so that I might have even more direct material to work with!

I could just go on and on and on with all the things they do wrong and absolutely nothing they do correctly with regard to what Yahweh specifically desires of them on an individual basis – to imitate Paul as he imitated Jesus – to quote The Bible.

So why am I utterly vehement in my attack?

Because if The Bible knowledge was inculcated in the hearts of these representatives – then they would not behave in the manner that they do – it is as simple as that! They behave like the majority of all religious leaders at the specific levels within the organisations to statistically mirror The Pharisees and Scribes living during Jesus' ministry period – for the distributed grouping mindset will be no different throughout the ages.

Let me just give bullet points rather than a long justified spiel that would turn into a rant:

1. Clothes, garb, trinkets and icons worn.
2. Positions taken within society and edifice, also the hierarchical salutes!
3. Political and commercial associations, deals entered into.
4. Non-ideal activities in the social arena – many examples, together with the 'covering up' by seniors.

5. Present a good worldly face to the congregation (being what they expect and desire) and by return they feed the minister's desire – thus feed The World what it desires and The World reciprocates – but is it Yahweh's Desire being fulfilled?

The Pharisees had the same type of community to administer, required the same respect, appear nice, attractive and attentive to their congregations so that they might take leading roles, become the centre of attention at public gatherings – to make it apparent that they 'represented Yahweh over the people (having 'Big Daddy' on their side to apparently validate their actions)! They required the same funding, tithing and donations from the public to keep their worldly aspirations fuelled and naturally would present a suitable face so that they might maximise the benefit they obtained from the populace.

All of which makes them no different to the religious leaders of today (of any religion) – or of any time!

The problem is that both then and now these leaders do not represent Yahweh's Interests here on Earth!

This understanding only becomes apparent if The Bible is thoroughly studied – which is perhaps why the general populace is taught not to study Yahweh's Word on a personal level because "the hypocrisy" of The Leaders would soon become exposed! Being precisely why Jesus gave the parable of The Rich Man and Lazarus for our edification!

The guidance is just not there in their sermons – that is why I have written www.FutureLife.Org so that this guidance is freely given for those who are interested in reading it and then applying it within their lives to attain The Goal (which during the last 1800 or so years has never been taught correctly)!

I will leave that aspect there else it just becomes an unedifying rant.

Now moving on.

Let me now comment on "Love" and what it really means (please see Glossary).

The most ideal form of "Love" is "Principal Love" where one entity puts their 'self' out to edify their neighbour – and this shall ultimately be mutual (in The Millennium), between all humans (after they have been taught righteousness).

However it is not presently practiced within this world - for generally we first 'look after the self'.

What occurs in this world being readily recognised that there are a few givers and many more takers – this being on worldly issues. And those "givers" should be (and are) applauded!

But how often do people put themselves out in time and effort to help their neighbour for no personal return, being knowledge for something that is perhaps considered by many, merely as 'a maybe' - may occur sometime in the future?

Very rarely done (there are examples) – but can the reader quickly give me an example?

And are they applauded? Sadly they are not - and further, many of them are persecuted/mockered for their efforts!

The reader at this point must try and get into the mind of these very specific people - why these martyrs justified by Yahweh behave as they do – when they become persecuted/mockered for apparently no visible return?

The Bible speaks of a personality change away from that of The World (moving away from your old personality that you first grew up within to survive/prosper by evolving into the ways of The World) into a new personality fashioned by the Holy Spirit growing within you as a new embryo – being the process of generation, "Born Again" (see Glossary).

The World gives by return to those of whom it likes, and snaps at those who it dislikes.

The World dislikes those humans who rub it up the wrong way by exposing double standards, basic hypocrisy operating within it. A person having a personality change has evolved away from The World and operates differently and as such their lifestyle becomes "a mark on their forehead" that is readily seen by The World – without the need of clothing, garb and trinkets to distract the external viewer from the real mark on The Forehead (= The True Personality).

So what has this got to do with "Love"?

Just about everything!

This 'new personality' means that you 'imitate Jesus' not in pretence that we readily see for immediate worldly return, but rather your personality, being the way you think, how you approach life and interact with other humans is so very different to what occurs as The Norm here on Earth. Yahweh is primarily interested in the synapse construction (see "Heavenly Treasure" in Glossary) being the way you think, the manner you rewire the connections within your brain is the process of being "Born Again" – and Full Birth into an entity acceptable to Yahweh is the entity that goes through into The Culmination else it becomes "still born" = dead at The 2nd Death (= effective annihilation).

Thus Yahweh is desirous of 'The Synapse Construction Mapping' which He finds precious, so that He can store it as Heavenly Treasure – rather than a corrupted, broken DNA body that rots to nothing!

Thus Real/Ideal/Principled Love (being the highest form of love) desires to fulfil Yahweh's Desire inasmuch we are to precisely imitate Jesus in our lives and thus help our neighbour to understand how they too must ultimately fulfil Yahweh's Desire of themselves as an individual.

That responsibility cannot be fobbed off onto any other person – it is YOUR responsibility.

The religious leaders become acutely accountable if they do not make that very clear to every individual in their congregations – it has absolutely nothing to do with 'belong to our schism to be saved' (essentially differentiated by the worldly customs) – if this is stated then quite simply you are in the wrong 'schism' to actively fulfil Yahweh's Desire! This seems a contradiction in terms – but it is not – if you fully understand The Bible message and I cover all this detail elsewhere on this website.

Thus Real/Ideal/Principled Love is directing your neighbour (more so to those within the congregation) into understanding that if they desire The Higher Goal (being Sonship to Yahweh – and not Sonship to Jesus as "the specific god” of us – I explain the difference on this website) then they must during the 1st part of their life turn away from worldly activities that consume very valuable time, so that they may promote The Lord’s Acceptable Year and the full implications (and ramifications) of this to all of society (and thus imitate Jesus).

Explaining what it shall be like and how it shall differ from what we presently experience during the 1st part of our life. This is a full time job over and above our duties to provide fleshly nutrients for the daily preservation of ‘The Self’ and of our immediate DNA family.

This is a 100% commitment especially when The World of some six billion people have not heard of Yahweh’s Acceptable Year because those who assume The Office of representing Yahweh perform such a rubbish job!

1. So what are the religious leaders doing to be “Loved” by the community? – Being The Community of The World!
2. And what should the religious leaders really be doing to be loved by Yahweh and thus demonstrating Real/Ideal/Principled Love to their neighbour – being The Community stuck within The World?
3. And what is your specific religious leader doing for YOU and your community?
Is this what Yahweh would desire the religious leader to be doing with their time?

Quite simply unless you read The Bible (using a good and faithful translation demonstrating fidelity to Yahweh’s Word) and understand precisely what it is telling you; then quite simply you will be sold a “pig in a poke” (exasperated through naivety not even to be in the position to recognise ‘a pig’) by the religious leader behaving exactly as The Pharisees did in their day – which is why Jesus was so scornful of them!

Quite simply Yahweh is after ‘the thought processes’ to become Ideal to His Standard to produce a harmonious society within and throughout – it is this mechanism created by the righteous individual that Yahweh stores as Heavenly Treasure – to be recreated as a ‘clone of the personality’ upon our resurrection and not of fleshly DNA. Thus works (over and above those merely required to provide daily subsistence) that promote self-indulgence or that feed ‘the body’ is worthless from Yahweh’s viewpoint.

Let me now answer the quote about “there being so much good in the world”.

I touched on this earlier inasmuch there is much ‘scratch my back, I scratch yours’ reciprocity because society seems to work better like that based upon early experience while a youth.

But just as Jesus told us: What is the praise in that?

For even the sinful (being all of us) do that to each other!

No – we must do good things to our enemy!

Which actually means not to ‘lie back and accept the attack’, but rather (if possible) we move quickly away from the scene, harbour no resentment, thus bide our time so that when the opportunity presents itself, then we can preach Yahweh’s Word to ‘the enemy’ when they are wondering why we have not retaliated while provoked – as The World would have done!

Now how many people in The Community would perform that action?

Very few – and if we do not - then we are sinful to Yahweh’s Desire through Jesus – being specifically the point Jesus is making.

Now start applying this logic to what we witness within society – and ‘the good’ done to our neighbour.

What do we see?

We see people carry out the following:-

1. Performing ‘obscure works’ so that other people pay them some money – that is donated to ‘a cause’.
2. Others giving gifts out of their plenty/excess (Matt.12v40-42, Luke.21v1-3) and receive the praise for it!
3. Do much social work, and saying the most wonderful, nice things ‘to please the listener’.
4. Etc. for ‘infinitem’.

In a worldly sense – they are ‘good works’ that make the various people involved feel good, get praise from others for what they have done, etc.

But are these ‘good works’ foremost in what The Bible specifically instructs us to perform to our neighbour to fulfil Yahweh’s Desire during the 1st part of our life or merely secondary?

Reading The Bible will give us the answer to this question about what really is foremost in Yahweh’s Desire.

A supplementary question would also be:

How many people in The World preach of Yahweh’s Acceptable Year and the full implications of this knowledge when compared with how many people who apparently perform worldly accepted ‘good works’?
And further: Why might there be such a large gulf between the two?

I let the reader meditate upon that discrepancy!

The positive fallout from this accurate knowledge being made widespread would be enormous in just so many areas within all of society (that would bind society together) – but it is not done – for The Goal is presently not made clear to anyone (except a fog is presented) – even though it is so clearly stated within The Bible – as this website makes so clear. I also explain why the present ruler of this world (Satan) does not desire this knowledge to be made widely known – until Yahweh Desires it to occur and thus in His power over-rides Satan’s Desire. It is made known to The World now because The Millennium is so close at hand and this knowledge must be publicised throughout all The World (as Jesus commanded), which I reason (in Jesus’ kindness/concern to his creation) desired all humans are given

The Knowledge of The Expectation to continue emboldened while The World implodes around them (global lack of resources to cause national and international strife) - that there will be a future for mankind rather than a species 'annihilation'.

Thus in summary to explain the point I am trying to make is best serviced by this illustration:

Good worldly works are the secondary function being merely 'sticking a plaster over the wound'.

However "the wound" is still there festering underneath the plaster. "The wound" is our sinful state and have no real knowledge why and how we are going to heal this wound. If the method is taught how the wound is to be healed then there would be The Expectation of healing – to create the healing underneath the sticking plaster.

Can the reader now understand the underlining message that is not proclaimed nor publicised?

Just stating "Jesus has done that for us" and "I am assured of future life because I 'believe' in Jesus' blood covers me" and leaving it at that - is an insult to Jesus! That statement as it stands does not offer praise to Jesus, but only when we imitate Jesus does that really praise Jesus and thus not insult what he did for us. For it is then by us precisely imitating him does it show that we value what he did for us on a personal level. Then we are not sinful to Yahweh for we are trying our utmost to fulfil His Desire (to imitate Jesus). Only a very few people do that now within the 1st part of their life (being only the 144000), and thus we need the 2nd part of our life in The Millennium to learn and understand why we must imitate Jesus (within a perfected society) – then we praise him in what we do!

So why is it so hard for us to do? - That being to precisely imitate Jesus!

Immediately a spiel of excuses will be given why we are not able to precisely imitate Jesus!

And then we must ask:

Why should we give excuses? What is in The World that is making us create these excuses?

Would Jesus desire to hear these excuses being given why you were unable to imitate what he did – especially when there are certain individuals in the world during The Gospel Age who did precisely imitate Jesus?

And why might you choose to attack this website for stating not only 'the obvious' but more importantly precisely what The Bible teaches us – as Paul told us: "Copy me as I copy Jesus".

Clearly there is a difference between those people who did/do imitate Jesus and those (being the vast majority) who blithely acknowledge what Jesus did for them and then return back to The World and its inducements to consume their time rather than to precisely imitate Jesus (in desire/spirit/personality to drive their works)!

I also explain why all this is occurring in "Yahweh's Desire" and "Satan's Desire" topics located in Glossary.

If we precisely imitate Jesus in our lifestyle, then we are able to heal "the wound" inside by reforming our personality - without the need of a sticking plaster!

Also I hear of so many worldly religious leaders speak of – I quote:

"Fairness and goodwill operates within The World because it is God's World and we see God working in other people."

I really do not know upon what planet these worldly Christian Leaders are living!

Do they not realise of the millions of daily examples of sex slaves, underage workers, children living in the drains, violence, paedophiles, drugs, murders, pain and suffering, loan sharks, libel, slander, pariah leaders, intimidation and bullying at '1001 layers' throughout society, etc. (and then to include unedifying thoughts 'poisoning' the synapse construction that do not get outputted as displayed works) the list is utterly endless – then consider human cruelty metered out to animals, when all these activities are summed then the number reached would be far greater than many billions of examples daily.

If I was in the position of these very worldly Christian Leaders, then I would only dare make that comment if the ratio was perhaps better than 10 good deeds to 1 bad deed, but when the reality is very much the other way around – perhaps 1 good deed to 10 bad deeds (rather horrific deeds in many instances). Thus it would be very accurate to state that these Religious leaders are at least 100:1 incorrect in the wrong direction!

If they are that far adrift from reality being less than 1% correct in something obvious – how can YOU trust them in what else they might state – being less obvious to the eye!

Clearly YOU cannot!

Also stating: "See God operating within these people."

Then an atheist would correctly ask: "Is this the sort of God I would desire to worship?"

Clearly not! – But merely Satan as the present custodian god of this world (operating as the prince of the air Eph.2v2) is allowing humans to become self-indulgent to the harm of their neighbours – to frustrate/oppose Yahweh's Plan!

Thus people self-indulge by imitating what Satan did when in a self-indulgent manner he desired 'all praise', and thus we now make him our god through us imitating his works which we learnt and enforced within our synapse construction as a child! Because we spend our time imitating his practices then we are effectively worshipping him! Please see "Satan's Desire" in Glossary to understand precisely what is occurring now and specifically why it is occurring.

However in surety, Yahweh is operating His Master Plan in parallel as this website so clearly explains but is never taught by those who ‘claim to know’ that we now comprehend by example - cannot be trusted in what they state – because they merely state what they think the listener desires to hear – for the worldly duplex ‘feel good factor’!

Finally there is ‘hard love’ or ‘tough love’ that sometimes can be difficult to apply – because when someone really loves someone they want to help – but Real/Ideal/Principled Love (for the long term benefit) is perhaps best to stand back and allow the person to find their own way in life – but always providing a welcoming home return. The Bible gives many examples of this and The Prodigal Son is a classic example, also likewise, Jesus speaking about The Father chastising a son whom he truly loves. Much of this wisdom is lost in The World today – leading to some of the problems we see around us. I only raise this because this is True Love aiming to correct The Personality by experience - rather than fawn to, pander to bad habits that seem to be all part of modern experience (worldly wisdom) – but Yahweh is allowing this to occur so that we too might learn from this worldly falsehood – by experience!

If you have reached this point in the essay then your mind will be in turmoil because what you have read has kicked hard against what you assumed as The Norm being a quite acceptable methodology to life – where you have assumed this continued worldly practice is ‘Desired by God’ only because you have been misled by those leaders without much idea of what Yahweh’s Plan really is for mankind!

What I have tried to do in this written reply is:-

1. Keep it very short – for I could have written a large book on this to logically reason through every point given.
2. Become a catalyst to start the reader’s mind working outside the worldly constraints built up over many years.
3. Most importantly daily read The Bible (a good translation – and not NIV) carefully, and understand it. Use the inter-verse commentary in the NT Translation to help you reason your way through the symbolism/allegories. Also please use the Glossary because you will find it explaining Biblical terminology and thus assist you in understanding what The Bible is precisely teaching you.

Thus in conclusion True Christianity is ‘The Absolute Truth’ because both it and science come from the same Source – but sadly through ‘worldly religious works’ (in ‘presented message’ and works) general Christianity is utterly distorted to become like any worldly religion sourced by Satan! It is because these worldly Christian Leaders like The Pharisees of their day had ‘The Required Truth’ as ‘dispensed for The Age’ by Yahweh who then ‘mangled this Truth’ by their intake and digestion to give nothing of value to their congregations and hence starved them as The Rich man did to Lazarus outside the gates, in Jesus’ parable.

We have come together and reached the end of this piece – now I have confession to make.

I realised that many people reading this website would have all those questions swimming around in their head.

Consequently – I ‘voiced’ these concerns on the reader’s behalf and wrote this enquiry myself – so that I might quickly provide the immediate answers for the benefit of those people visiting this website.

I thank you for persevering to the end of this piece – but I cordially invite you to read all this website so that you might gaze upon the most wonderful vista presented for your mind’s eye to feast upon.

Because of The Logic, The Harmony, The Righteousness/Equitability for all humans and Creation (including all entities within The Universe) as presented by all The Information as given on this website then I have The Confidence to state that The Knowledge on this website is “The Absolute Truth” and I ask any person on this planet to show any flaws within The Logic, The harmony, The Righteousness presented – or any alternative ‘Plan/Operation’ that fully concords with ALL The Evidence (of all sources) upon this planet. And if no one is able, then I ask the simple question:

What is stopping YOU from taking up this knowledge and then wisely applying it within your Life?
